

Conscription should NOT be compulsory Knock, knock! Somebody is knocking on your door! You go and open it. A superior looking man stands on your doorstep.
He hands you a sealed envelope with your name inscribed on it. It reads - you must go to war, you have no choice.
If you do not enlist you will be sent to jail - You gasp at this corrupting announcement. This is conscription!
Would you like this to happen to you? Well I wouldn't and that's why I'M AGAINST CONSCRIPTION!

Australia is a free country therefore, by forcing ^{can you add more words?} us to go to war you are disrespecting our personal freedom and rights! If a soldier is willing to sacrifice their life for their country then they should feel truly proud of themselves but people who are against war SHOULD also have the right to say no. Australia has sought to be a free country so why take that away from us? Do you want to invade our freedom by enforcing conscription? If so you should certainly feel shame!

Your loved ones such as, Dad, Husband, Brother or even your best mate may have to go to war! This would be a devastating fate to befall upon you. Sadly this cruel law could cause families tremendous amounts of hardship in the past and to prevent that we must NOT enforce conscription. Research proves that only 1 in 8 men return from war therefore, this means that 7 of 8 men never return to their friends and family. ^{ies} I know, would utterly hate it if this happened to my family and I was spare you feel the same Am I right? ^{million} of depression from tragic events of war which Yes, I know what you're thinking, what if ^{my friend} my loved one does return from war? Well, you just witnessed a miracle. Having someone return from war can be seen as an act of magic!
If your loved one does return it's still likely that they will NEVER be the same again

Conscription, NO WAY !!!

Conscription should not be a compulsory law in Australia. Citizens must have a freedom of choice and democratic rights to decide whether they want to go to war or not. Conscription is immoral.

To begin with, this law can cause detrimental harm to many innocent people. These people might have never thought of going to war in such a dreadful situation which caused people to have Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) is when people have experienced or witnessed a time in their life when they are facing a situation which has definite meaning to threaten their life or safety. This is caused by people who are panicking with fear of their lives, thinking negatively and developing thoughts such as 'The world is unsafe and being easily startled by signs of danger. People with PTSD can be disinterested in family life and may not offer help to people in need. Imagine how you would feel if your close relative came back from war having their mind dug in a deep hole just because of this stupid conscription. Conscription is just un - Australian.

Should conscription be compulsory in Australia

Have you ever thought that a war might begin and your brother, husband or boyfriend might be forced to go to war. We can say NO! to conscription and get back our freedom of choice. Nobody deserves to go through the hardships of war, or lose someone you love so say NO! and keep your loved ones.

Have you ever met someone who went to war. The campaigns and posters are so grim and disheartening, conscripting you without you knowing. Why would they want conscription how would they feel if their loved ones had to be forced to go fight in war and die of disease or be shot and if they do survive disfigurements without PTSD or other diseases. elaborate on this

The things the soldier have to go through are horrible no one should have to suffer the horrible things that happen in war. Why would someone want people to have to go through war and come back with posttraumatic stress disorder or other disease. Very similar reason ESI.
