Year Level: 5/6   Poetry Homework Rubric   Term 4

	Excellent	High	Satisfactory	Limited	Very Low
Oral Presentations	Plans, rehearses and delivers presentations which include considered multimodal elements for defined purposes • Content is precise and sequential • With considered expression clearly and coherently recites poem using a range of vocal effects for effect and purpose. • Recites poem without the aid of script.	Plans, rehearses and delivers presentations which include effective multimodal elements for defined purposes • Content is accurate and sequential • With expression speaks clearly and coherently recites poem using a range of vocal effects for effect and purpose. • Recites poem with minimal aid of script.	Plans, rehearses and delivers presentations which include multimodal elements for defined purposes • Content is sequential • Speaks clearly and coherently reciting poem using a range of vocal effects for effect and purpose. • Recites poem with the aid of script.	Plans, rehearses and delivers presentations which include multimodal elements that vary in suitability for defined purposes • Most content is sequential • When reciting poem is developing to speak clearly and attempts to add expression for effect and purpose. • Relies on script.	Plans, rehearses and delivers presentations which include fragmented multimodal elements • Some content sequential • When reciting poem is developing the range of vocal effects. • Heavily relies on script
Purpose audience and structures	Clear, effective and detailed— How the text structure and language features of the poem assist the reader in making meaning or interpretations of characters, setting and events.	Effective explanation - How the text structure and language features of the poem assist the reader in making meaning or interpretations of characters, setting and events.	Explains - How the text structure and language features of the poem assist the reader in making meaning or interpretations of characters, setting and events.	With limited detail - How the text structure and language features of the poem assist the reader in making meaning or interpretations of characters, setting and events.	Identifies some text structures.
Features of Literary Texts	Detailed and considered demonstrates understanding by expressing a point of view about a text, selecting information, ideas and images from a range of resources.	Effectively demonstrates understanding by expressing a point of view about a text, selecting information, ideas and images from a range of resources.	Demonstrates understanding by expressing a point of view about a text, selecting information, ideas and images from a range of resources.	Partially demonstrates understanding by expressing a point of view about a text, selecting information, ideas and images from a range of resources.	Limited understanding of point of view about a text, selecting information, ideas and images from a range of resources.